PORTER FOUND GUILTY OF PETIT LARCENY GIVES $100 BAIL

Basset Burton, colored, a porter on the Union Pacific railroad, was found guilty in city court this morning by a jury, of petit larceny and is released from custody on $100 bond.

Sentence will be pronounced by Judge Roberts tomorrow morning.

Burton was arrested on complaint of Roman Thaller who said that he had journeyed from Rock Springs, on the train on which Burton was a porter and that on arrival in Ogden on the night of March 26 he put his grip on the back of an express wagon from which it was stolen by the colored man. James Gray, Anton Necker and Earl Burton testified they saw the colored man approach the wagon and take the grip.

PETITION FOR OPENING OF AVENUE IS SENT TO BOARD

At the meeting of the city commissioners this morning, a petition was received from property owners on the avenue running north and south between Twentieth and Twenty-third streets, asking that the avenue be opened and named Ogden avenue. The petition was referred to the city engineer and city attorney.

The payroll for the month of March was submitted to the city commissioners this morning by Auditor A. F. Larson, and approved, as follows:

Department of Public Affairs and Finance	$2596.50
Department of Public Safety	5060.18
Department of Parks and Public Property	474.00
Department of Streets and Public Improvements	4430.75

PARALYZED BEGGAR GETS FIVE DAYS IN CITY JAIL

"I would rather beg than steal," said Dan Boardwell, a badly paralyzed mendicant, whose appearance belied his name as he pleaded guilty to begging on the streets of Ogden, in city court this morning. You ought to be able to get work, said the judge, and I will give you five days in the city jail, which will give the officers time to investigate your case.

"If you'll let me go, I'll try to get work or get out of town," said the beggar, who pleaded that his condition would not allow him to do a full day's hard work.

He is serving the five days now.

AMERICAN PLAN OF EMPLOYMENT PLACED IN EFFECT BY ASSOCIATED INDUSTRIES—UNIONS ARE OPPOSED

With the adoption of the "American plan" of employment by the Utah Associated Industries, effective today, and the demands of the unions of the building trades for increased wages in effect today, there seemed to be little change in the situation insofar as the Ogden district is concerned.

The demands of the workers were being met at both the Globe Mills and the Sperry Mills. These are the two largest employers of building trades workers at this time. Neither is a member of the Utah Associated Industries.

Union officials here today said the plan of the Associated Industries was directly in opposition to unionism and the unions here would fight it. Utah Associated Industries officers declare that the condition with regard to industry and the unions had become intolerable, that investors would not erect buildings as long as this uncertainty prevails and that a basis upon which work shall be done is necessary to insure progress.

Members of the Associated Industries say that the increase demanded by the unions will not be met.

Motion Rejected.

After the following motion had been turned down, it is said, by the union representatives at the Salt Lake conference yesterday, the Associated Industries announced that its plan would be put into effect.

That if the labor organizations will agree at once in writing (1) to the appointment of a committee of five members with full power to take final action with the understanding that (2) all pending wage demands and disputes be deferred pending the action by this committee and provided (3) that the present conditions as to the employment of labor shall prevail pending the action of this committee.

"Then that your committee of contractors recommend to the Associated Industries the appointment of a committee of employers of equal number also with power to act that this joint committee proceed thereupon to agree on a chairman who shall have the power to call a deciding vote in case of a lead-lock."

"The duties of this joint committee shall be to consider and make final disposition or final settlement of the ten points that have already been under discussion and as have been reported today under exhibit 'A'."

"This proposed committee shall be in existence during the coming year and the settlement arrived at by them shall be effective for the year beginning May 1, 1920."

"We also beg to recommend that such committee be made eventually a permanent working body to handle labor disputes in this territory."

The original proposal for working conditions on all building contracts to be made effective April 1 offered by Associated Industries to labor representatives was as follows:

"1. That the employer shall have the undisputed right to determine the number of men to be employed on any work of construction at any time during the course of building and to have the decision as to the necessity of the appointment of a foreman and in case of such appointment to prescribe his duties."

"2.—That the foreman may or may not be a union man, at the discretion of the employer."

"3. That the employer have the right to employ direct."

"4. That craftsmen be permitted to do emergency work in other related crafts for a limited period of time."

"5. That there be no limitation, either prescribed or understood, to obtain on the amount of work to be performed by any craftsman."

"6. That there be no limitation placed upon the number of apprentices in any craft."

"7. That during working hours the business agent do not appear on the job."

"8. That there shall be no sympathetic strikes."

"9. That labor unions be privileged to invite workers to affiliation with their organization, but that no strikes, delays or cessations of work occur on account of the employment of craftsmen not affiliated with the labor organization."

"10. That in the interests of all classes and the public welfare all existing wage demands which have been arbitrarily made be hereby cancelled; that the wages for 1920 shall be fixed by a joint committee composed of representatives of the public, employers and labor."

Galagher Makes Statement.

These proposals were the subject of frequent comment between the labor committee of the association and the labor representatives. The discussions led to the formulation of the concrete proposal for a joint committee on labor questions which was offered yesterday.

"With such a point blank refusal," according to President J. E. Gallagher of Utah Associated Industries, "there was no alternative left but to declare for such principles as would be fair to the public, to the employer, and the workman, without regard for any dominating influences or unreasonable demands that have thus far throttled our industries."

"The representatives of the employers contended that they should have the right to employ their own men, that there should be no limitation placed upon the output of any workman, that unions should not place upon the number of apprentices of a craft, but in accordance with the vocational education plan now in force in this state every boy should be given an opportunity to enter the craft to which he may be inclined or suited."

"We hope that all buildings now under construction may go on in order that no unnecessary burden may be imposed upon investors. The hope is expressed that negotiations will still be possible to correct present abuses and to consider all matters affecting the building program and relations between employers and employees, including the wage question."

Plan Is Outlined.

The American plan, as adopted by Utah Associated Industries, provides: "1. That the constitutional right of every workman to seek and find employment and thus provide for his family, upon terms and conditions mutually satisfactory to himself and his employer, must not be denied or abridged."

"2. That in all industrial and business relations the public welfare must always be regarded."

"3. That there be absolute fairness to all classes of workmen, whether union or non-union, and justice to employers."

"4. That there shall be no discrimination against any workman on account of his affiliation or nonaffiliation with any labor organization, and that any act of coercion, intimidation or force from any source whatsoever, applied against employer or employee engaged in lawful pursuits, is fundamentally unjust, vicious and un-American."

"5. That the right of employees to organize for lawful purposes must not be disputed and that the same privilege should be given to employers."

"6. That the employee has the right to leave his employment and the employer has the right to engage or to discharge his employees."

"7. That contracts should be faithfully observed by both parties."

"8. That any plan contrary to these principles is repugnant to American institutions."

W. F. Bossner, secretary of the Ogden branch of the Utah Associated Industries, said today that he had received a telegram from Montana which stated that after a two months' strike by carpenters the unions had acceded to the desires of the Associated Industries and were to begin work Monday on the American plan.

JOHNSON SAYS HOOVER IS TOO CHANGEABLE

Veers With the Winds Declares California Senator in Political Rally Speech

NEW YORK, April 1.—Senator Johnson of California, at a political rally in Carnegie hall today, said that one of his opponents for the Republican presidential nomination "veered with the winds on certain questions." After the rally he told reporters he referred to Herbert Hoover.

In his speech the senator said he held in utter contempt certain persons who were first on one side of the league of nations and then on the other. "These," he continued, "run with the hares and hunt with the hounds."

He charged that some newspapers in the United States did not function as a free press, since they were controlled by certain influences which made it impossible for them to do so.

Discussing the right of free assembly he said it was unwise to curb any minority acting within the law because the majority of today might become the majority of tomorrow.

While he despises a profiteer, he said, he likewise held in contempt "the patriot who is hiding behind the American flag."

Urging that the New York state primary law be amended, he called it "a disgrace to the great empire state."

SEAPLANE IS ADRIFT FOR SIXTEEN HOURS

BALTIMORE, April 1.—After having been adrift in a seaplane for sixteen hours without food or water, Major Sidney E. Parker of the British army and Miss Blanche Frazer arrived here today on the steamship Hilton, by which they were picked up on Sunday last.

Captain Carey said he found Major Parker and Miss Frazer in their plane about fifteen miles southeast of Jupiter, on the Florida coast.

Major Parker refused to talk of his trip or experience but Miss Frazer said they left Palm Beach on Saturday for Miami Island in the Bahamas, in the seaplane to take dinner with members of the Bimini gun club on the island, which is fifty miles distant.

All was going well until they ran into a heavy fog. The machine ran out of gasoline and Major Parker was forced to descend. Miss Frazer said she was a native of the island and had seen service during the world war.

General Strike Order on All Railroad Boats

NEW YORK, April 1.—A strike order effective immediately on all railroad boats except ferries, was issued by the Marine Workers Affiliation this afternoon. Workers on ferry boats of railroad companies were ordered to quit work at 8 o'clock tonight.

The union announced that 5,000 men would obey the order and that the strike would tie up 40 per cent total harbor traffic.

Light Vote Expected in Democratic Primaries

ST. PAUL, Minn., April 1.—A light vote is expected in the Democratic precinct primaries to be held throughout Minnesota tonight to select delegates to county conventions to be held Saturday in the eighty-six counties.

Polls are open from 6:30 to 8:30 p. m. and there is no opportunity on the ballots as arranged to express a presidential preference. In many precincts only caucuses will be held. One delegate is elected for each forty votes cast in 1916 for Wilson.

At the county conventions Saturday delegates will be chosen for the district and state conventions and these bodies in turn will select the delegates for the National Democratic convention at San Francisco.

There's no use in worrying about tomorrow. You did that yesterday and what did it get you today?
